STATEMENT OF CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

Contingent liabilities of Pakistan are primarily guarantees issued on behalf of Public Sector Enterprises (PSEs). The sovereign guarantee is normally extended to improve financial viability of projects or activities undertaken by the government entities with significant social and economic benefits. It allows public sector companies to borrow money at lower costs or on more favorable terms and in some cases allows to fulfil the requirement where sovereign guarantee is a precondition for concessional loans from bilateral/multilateral agencies to sub-sovereign borrowers.

- 2. The volume of new government guarantees issued during a financial year is limited under Fiscal Responsibility and Debt Limitation Act, 2005 (as amended from time to time) which stipulates that the government shall give guarantees aggregating to an amount not exceeding two percent of the GDP in any financial year including those for rupee lending, rate of return, outright purchase agreements and other claims and commitments provided the renewal of existing guarantees shall be considered as issuing a new guarantee.
- 3. During July to March FY 2022, the government issued fresh/rollover guarantees/Letter of Comforts (LoCs) aggregating to Rs 344 billion or 0.5 percent of GDP. Total executed guarantees were Rs 3,039 billion while outstanding stock was Rs 2,700 billion at end March 2022 as per the following details:

- 5. Guarantees issued against commodity operations are not included in the stipulated limit of 2 percent of GDP as the loans are secured against the underlying commodity and are essentially self-liquidating. These guarantees are issued against the commodity financing operations undertaken by TCP, PASSCO, and provincial governments. The outstanding stock of commodity operations was Rs 845 billion at end March 2022.

Statement of Fiscal Risk

The Statement of Fiscal Risk outlines the Government's assessment of key risks that can affect the targets as outlined in the Medium-Term Fiscal Framework. Fiscal risks are factors that could cause fiscal outcomes to differ from predictions. Revenues, expenditures, assets, and liabilities may be affected by unexpected events that can have bearing on budget estimates. Additional government commitments can increase public debt, refinancing difficulties, or more significant fiscal events can result if any or all of these threats are realized. Further, fiscal accounts are also vulnerable to changes in international macroeconomic conditions like commodities prices and the exchange rate.

Key Fiscal Risks

Various shocks to macroeconomic variables, revenue & spending risks, and contingent liabilities from State-Owned Enterprises (SOEs) are the primary sources of fiscal risk. Consequently, it is necessary to identify, analyze, and mitigate fiscal risks because they have a significant impact on public debt sustainability and fiscal outcomes.

1. Economic Risks

Despite significant challenges both on the external and domestic side, the economy continues to move on a higher growth trajectory and recorded an estimated growth of 5.97 % against the target of 4.8 %. It is expected that growth will remain 5.0 - 6.2 % in the medium term. However, there are multiple external and domestic factors posing downside risks to the economic outlook:

- ✓ The conflict between Russia and Ukraine is a significant risk factor to Pakistan's positive economic outlook. A prolonged conflict may further raise international oil and food prices. Such a situation can impede world trade through additional supply disruptions affecting our imports, exports, and taxes on imports. On the hand, it can put additional inflationary pressures.
- ✓ Global financial conditions tightening with an unprecedented speed to reduce the demand pressure
- ✓ Internal disturbances, if any can disrupt macro-economic balance.
- ✓ Monetary tightening and fiscal consolidation measures to reduce the demand pressures may slow down economic growth in the coming year.
- ✓ Exchange rate depreciation has an immediate impact and can be especially severe when a large portion of the debt is in foreign currency.

2. Global Economic Conditions

Pakistan is a net importer of food and oil items.International commodity and oil prices are consistently high, putting significant strain on Pakistan's fiscal account. Although steps were taken to protect the public from price increases through tax relief and subsidies, however, it significantly increased the risk of fiscal slippages. The continuation of such policies in the face of such global economic conditions would come at a high fiscal cost to the country. Most importantly, in Pakistan, the fiscal stance is vulnerable to commodity prices, especially oil prices, which has become uncertain in recent years. Oil price fluctuations affect the fiscal position through their impact on revenues on account of PDL and on the expenditure side through fuel subsidies. As a result, it causes severe macroeconomic imbalances. To deal with such circumstances, fiscal buffers become increasingly important.

3. Growth in Government Revenues

Lower tax revenues lead to greater fiscal deficits and borrowings and reduce the fiscal space for expenditure pertaining to the development and social sectors. Since current expenditures are less flexible and difficult to reduce, thus, any reduction in tax revenue may leave lesser than projected space for development spending.

FBR which collects a substantial amount of revenues mostly relies on indirect taxes which are contributing more than 60 percent of total FBR tax collection. Although, presently, tax collection is growing above 28 percent, the increased collection is largely dependent on import taxes. Currently, more than 46 percent of collection in total tax is coming from imports. Thus, to reduce the pressure from external accounts, measures to curtail imports would affect the FBR tax collection. Considering this, it is critical to increase domestic tax collection through effective and appropriate policy and administrative measures.

4. Higher Expenditure

Higher subsidies, interest payments and grants will be detrimental to fiscal sustainability in the absence of adequate fiscal space. Rising interest rates and energy and food prices will put additional strain on the budget. The government has taken steps to limit the rise in domestic prices, including tax cuts and subsidies. However, such measures can have unintended consequences, such as increased expenditures, lower revenue collection and higher aggregate demand.

5. Losses pertaining to Energy Sector

The main reasons behind the power sector losses include high cost of generation above-average transmission and distribution losses, and below-average recoveries of electricity bills. Presently, the power sector is the largest beneficiary of government subsidies.

Imports of fuels including oil, gas, and coal constitute a large portion of Pakistan's import bill. Prices of these fuels affect the prices of a variety of goods and services as these fuels contribute a significance part of production. Volatility in prices of these fuels is a major reason behind the volatility in inflation rates which, in turn, contribute to volatility in interest rates and exchange rates.

An increase in the cost of imported fuels, whether due to rising fuel prices in international markets or exchange rate depreciation, or both, has potential adverse effects on the wider economy through higher current account deficit, higher inflation, higher interest rate, lower GDP growth, lower revenue growth, higher interest cost, higher fiscal deficit, and higher public debt levels. Currently, there are little or no fiscal buffers or risk management framework for dealing with adverse shocks in the prices of imported fuels.

6. Provincial budget surplus

The medium-term fiscal framework envisages strict fiscal discipline on part of the provinces as their surpluses remain a vital component in reducing the overall consolidated fiscal deficit of the country whereby large federal deficits are partially offset by significant provincial surplus over the medium-term.

In the absence of legally binding commitments from provinces, the risk remains high that the projected provincial budget surpluses may not materialize. This risk is particularly elevated considering that any shortfalls in FBR's projected collections may provide the provinces with the justification not to meet the budget surplus targets.

7. State-Owned Enterprises (SOEs)

Over time, the number and aggregate size of SOEs have grown considerably. Many SOEs perform fiscal functions. Certain SOEs have been incurring huge losses in the past. Losses or excessive debt have necessitated costly government bailouts. The Government provides financial support to several SOEs in the form of subsidies, grants, loans, and guarantees. The fiscal cost of running the loss-making SOEs has been quite high and has worsened an already fragile financial position of the government. The approach to keep poorly-performing SOEs afloat by granting loans or issuing guarantees has aggravated the fiscal situation. The privatization process has also been slow in the past.

A rethinking of policy regarding the privatization, ownership, objectives, and modes of financing & governing principles of SOEs is required. Realizing such needs, the Government is committed to provide a policy guidance, stronger governance and performance management framework for the SOEs.

CONCLUSION

Various types of fiscal risks confront Pakistan, and a lot of effort is needed to overcome or mitigate the potential adverse effects of such risks. The silver lining is that the country has already made considerable progress in certain areas, and a number of strategies are available to address the risks that remain. The risk management strategy envisages range of Public Financial Management (PFM) reforms that bring discipline, transparency, and credibility at all stages of the budget cycle and follows a two-pronged approach i.e.

- preventing the risks from materializing or lowering the exposure in case such risks materialize, and
- creating buffers for the risk exposures that still remain.

Asim Ahmad Chairman FBR

Dated: 10-06-2022

Medium Term Budgetary Statement (2022-23 to 2024-25)

Government is laying before the National Assembly a Medium Term Budgetary Statement in pursuance of Section 5 of the Fiscal Responsibility and Debt Limitation Act, 2005. This statement is consistent with the country's overall macroeconomic framework.

- 2. The year 2021-22 was a year of economic recovery backed by incentives to various quarters of the economy. Pakistan's economy had shown some signs of revival after being hit by the Covid-19 pandemic. The timely response measures to combat this daunting challenge were about to bear fruits when world faced new economic challenges due to Ukrainian War. The increase in international commodity prices and rupee depreciation played a havoc with the economy. The major challenge for government was to provide relief to the poor and vulnerable segments of society.
- 3. For the protection of vulnerable segments of the society, the government is committed to implement various components under Benazir Kafalat and other programs under BISP by allocating huge amount for unconditional cash transfers, fuel subsidy, Waseela e Taleem, Nutrition program, etc. On the external front, various policy actions were undertaken including bilateral and multilateral arrangements, IMF program continuity and exchange rate stability in the backdrop of strong foreign exchange reserves, as well as reviving export industry. Consequently, the economy will pick up and move towards sustained economic growth.
- 4. Over the medium-term a number of important policy measures will be taken. These policy measures will broadly include reduction of budget deficit, revenue mobilization, maintaining the policies of no borrowings from State Bank of Pakistan for budget financing, flexible exchange rate, structural reforms in public entities including privatisation, reforms in energy sector (electricity and gas) and circular debt management, increase in public investments in management of water, implementation of projects under China-Pakistan Economic Corridor, strengthening energy transmission and distribution system, implementation of national tariff policy, implementation of special economic zones, etc.

- 5. The context and strategy for FY 2022-23 rests on fostering sustained and inclusive growth, horizontal and vertical expansion of social safety net to support the vulnerable segments of the society and successful continuation of IMF program. Moreover, providing impetus to the economic activity through higher public development spending and consequently supporting job creation. Funding for special initiatives led by the Prime Minister like Wazir e Azam Rozgar Scheme, lending schemes to support various groups include credit guarantee and loan schemes for women entrepreneurs, students, youth and sectors like SMEs, food & agriculture etc.
- 6. FBR collection however, will increase through improvement in tax system, broadening tax base improvement in tax rates and strengthening of administrative controls through technological interventions. Other measures include withdrawing tax exemptions, rationalizing concessionary regime, simplifying tax rules and ensuring tax compliance. Furthermore, ensuring better financial management and fiscal discipline, by striking a balance between relief measures and fiscal deficit to keep the primary balance at a sustainable level.

6. For sustained economic growth in medium term it is imperative for the Federal government to accordingly pursue a multi-pronged strategy with focus on revenue mobilization, rationalization of recurrent expenditures to provide space for development/ capital expenditure, support for the driver sectors of the economy and increase the foreign exchange earnings for management of current account and easing off pressure on the Rupee (PKR).
